

CONTENTS.

CONTENTS OF No. LXXIII, N.S., JANUARY, 1879.

MEMOIRS:

	PAGE
On the Existence of a Head-Kidney in the Embryo Chick, and on Certain Points in the Development of the Müllerian Duct. By F. M. BALFOUR, M.A., Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge; and ADAM SEDGWICK, B.A., Scholar of Trinity College, Cambridge. (With Plates I and II)	I
Notes on some of the Reticularian Rhizopoda of the "Challenger" Expedition. By HENRY B. BRADY, F.R.S. (With Plates III, IV, and V)	20
Researches on the Flagellate Infusoria and Allied Organisms. By O. BUTSCHLI, Professor of Zoology in the University of Heidelberg. (With Plate VI)	63
The Morphology and Systematic Position of the Spongida. By F. M. BALFOUR, M.A., Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge	103
Flagellated Organisms in the Blood of Healthy Rats. By TIMOTHY RICHARDS LEWIS, M.B.	109

NOTES AND MEMORANDA:

Observation on the Capitellidæ by Dr. HUGO EISEN	115
Bacteria as the Cause of the Ropy change of Beet-root Sugar	116
STEIN'S 'Organismus der Infusionsthier'	118

PROCEEDINGS OF SOCIETIES:

Dublin Microscopical Club	120
-------------------------------------	-----

TITLE, CONTENTS, and INDEX to Vol. XVIII.